Dr. Robert Morrow
Friend, Colleague, and Champion of
San Joaquin County Children

This year's edition is dedicated to the late Dr. Robert Morrow, emeritus professor of education at the University of Pacific's Gladys Benerd School of Education. Bob was a pioneer in early childhood education. For three summers beginning in 1966 in Schuyler County, New York, he worked as the director of a new federal program for children—Head Start. In 1975, he earned his doctorate in Preschool Special Education at the University Illinois under another early childhood education pioneer, Dr. Merle Karnes. Bob became a resident of Stockton that same year when he accepted a faculty position in early childhood education at the University of the Pacific. He taught at UOP for over 27 years, retiring in 2002 after reaching the rank of full professor and receiving the Order of the Pacific, the highest honor for service to the University.

During his long career, Bob received many other awards for his work with children, including the Champion of Literacy Award from San Joaquin A+ and the Lifetime Achievement Award from Family Resource and Referral Center. Of course, these awards are a testimony to the stature of the man. However, his real legacy is in the lives he touched for the better—the children he helped, the students and colleagues he taught and inspired, and the friends to whom he extended his special blend of warmth, humor, and kindness.

Those wishing to honor Bob may donate to the Professor Bob Morrow Memorial Fund. Checks should be sent to the Professor Bob Morrow Memorial Fund, Benerd School of Education, University of the Pacific, 3601 Pacific Avenue, Stockton, CA 95211. The fund will provide scholarships for worthy education students needing financial assistance.

San Joaquin Literacy Directory

Preface

Now in its fifth and final edition, the San Joaquin Literacy Directory is intended to provide families, social-service professionals, and educators with accurate and comprehensive information about literacy services in our county. You may be aware of local efforts to create access for all San Joaquin County residents to a comprehensive range of health and human services through the 2-1-1 program, which will be accessed by phone and internet. The information previously available in the Literacy Directory will be included in San Joaquin 2-1-1.

As you review the 2015 Directory, we encourage those of you who have the time and resources to consider volunteering with and donating to one or more the organizations listed in these pages. Even with all the good work going on in our county, there is still much to be done to make sure children and adults have access to vibrant literacy.

A brief explanation of the set-up of the directory may be useful. It is organized under three categories: Birth to Kindergarten; Kindergarten to 8th Grade; and 9th Grade to Adult. Entries within each of the three categories are in alphabetical order.

This year's edition of the Directory is dedicated to our friend and colleague, Professor Robert Morrow, who was one of the founding editors. A long-time champion of the welfare of children, Professor Morrow succumbed to cancer last summer at age 82.

We hope the directory will contribute to the efforts of parents, social-service professionals, educators, and community leaders to create a vibrant support network for San Joaquin County children so they can develop a love of reading and succeed in school.

San Joaquin Literacy Directory

Message from San Joaquin Delta College President Kathy Hart on Behalf of the Board of Trustees:

As educators and those who work on behalf of the public to support community college education, the Board and I know how desperately our community needs resources to improve literacy at all levels. This literacy directory goes a long way toward providing a quick, easy way to access these literacy resources. We hope that our support of the printing and production of this literacy directory helps you find the programs and services that you and your family need to improve the reading, writing, and language skills of yourselves and your children. Delta College is proud to support Sam Hatch, Michele Marta, and Eileen Thomas, Delta College faculty and staff. Volunteers all, they have worked tirelessly and diligently to put the directory together for the benefit of you and your family.

This year's directory is dedicated to Dr. Robert Morrow, who was a Professor of Education at the University of the Pacific and a long-time champion of the welfare of children. Dr. Morrow, or "Bob," as he preferred, lost his battle with cancer on July 8, 2014. Bob was known throughout the county, state, and nation for his deep concern for improving literacy, helping children, and promoting the value of education. Founding member of the Mayor's Book Club, Special Needs Coordinator at Family Resource and Referral Center, local coordinator of the Bring Me a Book Foundation of San Joaquin, and columnist for The Record are just a few of Bob Morrow's contributions to the community. Bob also received many awards and honors for his work. The children, the adults, and the community organizations of this area have lost a great friend and supporter. We will all miss him.

With Thanks and Appreciation ~

This year we are fortunate to have a generous grant from UOP's Beyond Our Gates facilitated by Jennifer Torres Siders. We appreciate the commitment of Beyond Our Gates to supporting early childhood education and school success.

We are grateful to Delta College Board of Trustees—Steve Castellanos, President; Claudia Moreno, Vice-President; Janet Rivera, Clerk; Dr. Teresa Brown; Dr. Catherine Mathis; C. Jenet Stebbins; and Richard Vasquez—for their past support. Without the generosity of Dr. Kathy Hart, Superintendent-President of San Joaquin Delta College, earlier editions of this directory could not have been published.

We appreciate the kindness of Elizabeth O. Dulemba in allowing us to use her illustrations. We also thank Gil Vanover and his staff in the San Joaquin Delta College Publication Center for their expert printing of the directory.

This year's directory would not have been compiled without the editorial efforts of three Delta College staff members--Sam Hatch, Michele Marta, and Eileen Thomas.

We are thankful for the support of former Stockton Mayor Ann Johnston, Lani Schiff-Ross of Head Start San Joaquin, and Jamie Baiocchi of the San Joaquin County Office of Education. All three were encouraging from the earliest stages of this project.

Permission to Post and Reprint the San Joaquin Literacy Directory

Any organization in San Joaquin County concerned with promoting literacy and the welfare of children is welcome to post the Literacy Directory. We would be happy to send you the pdf. If you or your organization would like to reprint the Directory, please contact Sam Hatch at shatch@deltacollege.edu or samhatch@sonic.net. Permission will be granted as long as the Directory is reprinted without changes and distributed free of charge.

The 2-1-1 System

You may be aware of local efforts to create access for all San Joaquin County residents to a comprehensive range of health and human services through a 2-1-1 program, which can be accessed by phone and internet. We are pleased to say the program began on April 1 of this year. If you need help, dial 2-1-1 or visit www.211sj.org. You may also call 800-436-9997, For emergencies, call 9-1-1. 2-1-1 will assist you in finding programs or services in San Joaquin county to help with housing/shelter, healthcare, counseling, food, legal services...and more.

Contact Tiffany Phovixay at tphovixay@frrcsj.org or 461-2911 for more information about San Joaquin 2-1-1.
