WHAT CAN I DO WITH MY DEGREE?

By studying the French language, you will strengthen your writing, speaking and analytical skills in English. It will prepare you to be successful in both international and domestic career areas. Recent majors and minors in French can be found working in hospitality, teaching, international business, diplomacy, banking, data processing, translation, art, fashion, community development, marketing, commerce and many more.

French is spoken on all continents and is predicted to become the most widely spoken language in the world within 50 years due to the economic and population growth in Africa (Forbes Magazine).

The French Faculty and staff are committed to helping students select courses to provide the greatest chance of success leading to an excellent academic foundation.

Are you a fluent Spanish speaker? Studying French will be fairly easy! You will become a trilingual person and a true global citizen with connections to French speakers in the local community and around the world.
